

ARE IMPORTANT TO THE STATE

Three Measures To Come Before State Legislature During The Coming Week.

MODEL HIGHWAYS AND METHODS

Each Of The Bills Provides For Special Portions Of The Work And The Payment To Be Made.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., May 11.—Three important questions will come before the legislature for consideration this week—taxation of telephone companies, the ad valorem tax on highways, and the question of a closed season for aquatic fowls until 1912. All are slated for some legislative action on Wednesday or Thursday of this week.

The Jones' good roads bill has been made a special order for Wednesday at ten o'clock, but from the number of amendments which have been drafted for submission it is probable that no conclusion can be reached on the bill that day.

The first matter to be considered will be the adoption or rejection of the Reynolds substitute which places the power of administration in the towns and counties, with a state engineer to supervise the work. Assemblyman Reynolds is making a campaign for his substitute bill using as a slogan "let us spend the state's money upon the roads and not in salaries."

The Jones bill provides for a state highway commission, the idea being that the town and county shall be reimbursed when a portion of a highway constructed has been finally accepted by the state.

The measure will be on the calendar for engrossment. One of the interesting features in the fight for a bill to give state aid to highways is the suggestion by Assemblyman Reynolds that it might be well to submit the whole matter to a vote of the people.

Although at the last general election the people amended the state constitution so that aid to highways would be possible, the voters present in the Jones' bill, the Reynolds' substitute and the Brown bill in the senate are so radically different that one is inclined to believe the people should be permitted to make a choice of the measure desired.

The Brown bill provides for an executive commission with a state engineer endowed with comprehensive powers. All three bills recognize that one third of the cost of construction shall be paid by the town, one third by the county, and the remaining one third by the state, Wednesday evening following the discussion of the good roads measure in the assembly will witness a spirited joint hearing.

BEGIN RE-TRIAL OF BANKER-EMBEZZLER

Opening Arguments in Appeal Of John R. Walsh, Heard Before United States Court Of Appeals.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Chicago, Ill., May 11.—Before Judge Crossen, Baker and Seaman, in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, arguments were begun today in the appeal of John R. Walsh, who was convicted some months ago of misappropriating the funds of the Chicago National Bank, of which he was president.

That Walsh intends to keep up a vigorous fight for his freedom is evidenced by the fact that he has retained David S. Ross, mayor of Milwaukee and one of the acknowledged leaders of the Milwaukee bar, as associate counsel with John S. Miller, the eminent Chicago lawyer who has had charge of Walsh's case from the start. If all efforts of counsel fail, then the former banker and railroad president must serve his sentence of five years in the Federal prison at Leavenworth.

Public interest in the Walsh case was revived a week or so ago when the name of the former president of the Chicago National Bank was brought out in the re-investigation of the affairs of Peter Van Vliedingen, the Chicago real estate man, who was sent to prison for embezzling approximately $2,000,000. But whether Mr. Walsh had a knowledge of the Van Vliedingen forgery prior to the public exposure of the real estate man's misdeeds, no other men of note or less prominent in Chicago financial circles are alleged to have had, did not develop at the hearing.

Walsh is believed to have had a meagre remnant left of his once large fortune. The failure of his bank preceded his own downfall and since then he has seen the two Indiana railroads for which he made great sacrifices pass from his hands into the control of others. Until the crash came he was reckoned among the shrewdest financiers in the West.

Starting his career as a homeless newsboy he had grown to be a millionaire several times over. But his ambition to become a railroad magnate finally got the better of his judgment, and he eventually brought about his ruin.

The grand jury investigation which led to his indictment showed amazing conditions of rottenness in Walsh's bank. It was charged that he put the bank's money into his pocket in amounts exceeding $1,000,000 at a time in four years he realized nearly $3,000,000 on "memorandum notes" alleged to have been fraudulently issued.

AUSTRIAN PRINCE ONCE MORE FOUND

Chicago Journal Believes It Has Discovered Long Lost Heir to Crown of Austria.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Chicago, May 11.—The Chicago Journal today devotes the entire front page to elaboration of the unequivocal statements that it has discovered the "lost John Orth," otherwise the Archduke Johann Salvator, of Austria, Prince of the House of Hapsburg, who disappeared thirteen years ago, after marrying Ludmilla Stubel, an opera singer.

Teachers, Pupils, Employees And Even Former Employees Closely Questioned by the Board of Control.

After spending two days, Friday and Saturday of last week, and returning to Janesville yesterday afternoon and putting in a good hard evening and morning today, taking testimony in the complaint against the management of the State Institute for the Blind, the four members of the state board of control, who have been here, returned to Madison at noon today.

Fifty or more witnesses, including teachers, pupils, employees and even former employees of the school were examined and closely questioned relative to the rumors that have been brought to the attention of the state board. It is said that some sensational testimony developed, the nature of which was not disclosed.

As far as can be learned no specific charges were filed with the board and the investigation was brought about by the board, who decided to thoroughly investigate the rumors which had come to their attention within the past few weeks.

The inquiry among the students and teachers, many of whom feel quite strongly on the matter. It was intimated by some of those who were instrumental in the present inquiry that if nothing resulted in the action of the board the governor would be appealed to order a special inquiry of what is termed "unbiased committee."

Much testimony was taken, Miss Grant acting as official stenographer for the board and all the witnesses were most closely questioned as to details of facts brought out by the different witnesses. The matter has created considerable interest and the outcome will be watched with interest.

INSPECTOR MADE TO WALK PLANK

ASSISTANT STREET COMMISSIONER SMITH'S OFFICE ABOLISHED.

BY THE COMMON COUNCIL

Nothing Was Done About Mayor's Veto of Officer Sam Brown's Salary Order—Junk Men Must Pay $25.

At the instance of Alderman Sheridan the ordinance repealing the ordinance of May 27, 1921, creating the office of assistant street commissioner (sidewalk inspector) was called up for its third reading and passage last evening. It was carried by a vote of 7 to 2. Aldermen Brown, Buchholz, Clark, Kimball, Rehfeld, Richardson, and Sheridan voting in the affirmative and Aldermen Evans and Scott registering the negative protest. The movement to abolish the office was started immediately after ex-Mayor Heddlow (just before his retirement) appointed Edward Smith as the incumbent, and was pushed by the aldermen who had nearly succeeded in preventing confirmation of the appointment. Friends of Mr. Smith claim that he performed his duties thoroughly and to the satisfaction of the public, and that the work is rightly within the street commissioner's province and that the additional office is uneconomical and unnecessary.

No Action on Brown Salary.
Mayor Carlo reported that he had declined to sign the order passed at the previous meeting directing the payment of $30 to Officer Sam Brown for his services from March 3 to April 17, 1928, and gave as reasons: (1) That there was already on the books an order stipulating that the said officer be paid for the larger portion of this period on condition that he resign from the force—an order which had never been repealed; (2) that according to the opinion filed by City Attorney Maxfield and dated May 26, 1928, the council could not legally pay for the said services; (3) that there had been variations in the amounts which the council had tried to appropriate for Officer Brown's services from time to time; and (4) that the honor did not approve of the manner in which the order was introduced, it having been incorporated in the finance committee's report without having been passed upon by the members of that body. Ald. Brown corrected the Mayor on this score, declaring that the item had not been included in the finance committee's report on bills, but in the salary list which is not passed upon beforehand by that body and is accessible to any alderman. All of which, according to Mayor Carlo, simply established his contention that the item was not in the report of the finance committee and that several of the new aldermen didn't know what it was. "I wouldn't have objected so much if I hadn't heard on the streets that if (the council) passed the ordinance (which) ordered the payment of $30 to Officer Brown," Attorney Maxfield's opinion was based on the theory that Rule 5 which was passed by the fire and police commissioners on May 10, 1927, and which provided that no one who had not been a resident of Janesville for three years IMMEDIATELY preceding the filing of his application, could be appointed to the police force, had the binding force of law and that the amendment to the rule, striking out the word IMMEDIATELY, which was not passed until April 17, 1928, had no bearing on the matter in hand. The council, last evening, took no action on the mayor's veto.

Fifth Avenue Imbroglio.
Such exclamations as "Falko na k—!" and "Do you mean to insultate that I'm an old woman?" came from the star-chamber during the prolonged recess. Charles J. Schottel, W. T. Scofield, William Pratt, Capt. B. F. Moore, John Yahn and others were quietly "arguing" with J. H. Burns and Frank Snyder regarding proposed changes in the width of Fifth avenue and improvement of the same with curbing and macadam. As a matter of fact an order was passed last evening giving the width of the street at 40 feet. Acting on another order introduced by Ald. Scott two weeks ago and passed, the highway committee viewed the street recently and decided to make no recommendations, allowing it to remain in "statu quo." This was just what the big delegation wanted, but the Messrs. Burns and Snyder were anxious to have the highway narrowed to 30 feet. No further action was taken or is likely to be taken.

Street Improvements.
On motion of Chairman Sheridan of the highway committee, the plans and specifications for the improvement of Washington street from Mineral Point ave. to Linden ave. were adopted but it was also stipulated that work should be postponed until May 1, 1930. In accordance with a petition filed by a number of property owners, plans and specifications for the improvement of Chatham street from Ravine street to Mineral Point avenue and the street improvement committee's assessment of benefits were also adopted.

Street Commissioner J. H. Watson's inventory of supplies on hand and suggestions regarding the street sweeping and the purchase of a horse for his department were received and placed on file. That officer was directed by orders to repair Jackson and Academy streets from Milwaukee st. north to the C. & N. W. railway crossing, clear the gutters on Glen street in the Second ward and all the main streets and gutters in the Fourth ward, where needed; and build brick crosswalks across Court street on the west side of Harrison street, and across Jackson street on the south side of Wall street. Authority was given to the city clerk to buy two carloads of paving bricks. Sidewalk grades filed by City Engineer Keroh for Maple Court and for the east side of Oak Hill ave. from Highland to Linden ave. were accepted. Directives were given to that officer to file sidewalk grades for the east side of East st. from Court st. to St. Lawrence ave. for the north side of Glen st. from Milton ave. to Augusta st. and for the east side of Milton ave. from Glen st. to Hyatt st. as well as street grades for High street from Race to Madison and D.

vision street, from Milwaukee st. to North First st.
The assistant street commissioner's report on new walks needed was adopted and the same ordered built. Proposals from John J. Murphy for sprinkling the streets in front of city property on the East side and William Book for similar work on the West side, at the usual rates, were accepted. The street assessment committee was directed to advertise for proposals for the construction of all sidewalks that the common council may order built during the ensuing year, in accordance with specifications adopted May 27, 1927.

Sewer Construction.
The city engineer was also requested to file plans and specifications showing the location, size, kind and quality of material used, etc., for the construction of lateral sewers and drains, and water and gas service pipes to be ordered laid from the main to the curb lines of lots on the main street from the southerly side of St. Lawrence ave. to the southerly side of Racine st. and the southerly line of lot 16, Dickson & Bailey's addition; also for those to be laid on N. High st. from the north line of Race st. to the easterly line of Madison st.

Favorable action was taken on the report of the street assessment committee on the proposals received for the 2,220 feet of 1909 sewer construction work to be done on Fourth, Prairie and Fifth avenues, Glen, Walker, Yuba, and Division streets and the award of the same to Mulholland & Sons of Kaukauna on their bid of $27,963 was approved.

The committee was directed to have the sewer on Lincoln street extended northerly from School street a distance of 60 feet to accommodate William Homming, lot 8, Doe's addition, on condition that he pay into the fund the amount fixed by regular assessment.

On recommendations of the street assessment committee, the clerk was directed to draw on the treasurer for $1,000 payable to the People's Construction Co. in part payment for work in District 4; for $100 payable to the same firm for work on the main outlet; and for $306.75 payable to the Chicago Drainage Construction Co. in full for work in District 12 and the certificates issued therefor.

Monthly Reports.
Favorable action was taken on the finance committee's report on bills, those of the city treasurer and board of education for the month of April, and all of the others submitted. That of the trustees of the firework pension fund showed no disbursement for the year and a balance of $1,872.60 on hand. That of the municipal court showed that fees, fines, and penalties amounting to $57.49 had been collected. Chief Appleby's account of the activities of the police department showed that 74 arrests had been made for various offenses, including 70 for drunkenness; that 50 were taken to court and 24 discharged; and that the arrests were to be credited to the various officers as follows: Appleby, 8; John Brown, 8; Panning, 14; Morley, 10; Champion, 14; Mason, 11; Sam Brown, 8; and Dulla, 1.

Attorney Burpee Retained.
The City Attorney Attorney F. C. Burpee to assist him in the defense of Harshman & Lindquist's action against the city for $12,350.40 alleged sewer "extras." The sum of $50 was appropriated for the payment of witness fees and other expenses in the city's litigation now pending. Direction was given that the sum of $97.22 deposited by Charles Treloar with his application for a license to continue the saloon business at the Podowell stand, 15 N. Academy st., be returned to him. The clerk was requested to draw on the treasurer in favor of Ald. J. J. Sheridan in the sum of $25 to be used in payment for the new horse purchased for the police department. Mayor Carlo was given authority to borrow $500 and place the same to the credit of the general fund. Instructions were given that a rebate of $12.43 should be paid to Dr. James Mills and $13.22 to Miss Foster, the same being the amounts of the overcharges made against them for the last Milwaukee street curbing improvement. The bonds of G. A. Crossman, second hand dealer, Charles Snyder, plumber, and Dr. J. W. St. John, now member of the fire and police commission, were found in due form and accepted. The Janesville Recorder's bid for the city printing was accepted.

Junk Men Disappointed.
Chairman Evans of the license committee reported unfavorably on the petition of the several junk dealers to have their license fees lowered from $25 to $10 and his motion that the petition be laid on the table was passed by unanimous vote. Considerable discussion was occasioned by the Janesville Music Co.'s petition for permission to conduct an auction sale of pianos and organs without paying the high license fee usually exacted. To the motion granting this permit for a period of three days, Ald. Brown offered an amendment providing that a license fee of $10 a day be required, that the auctioneer be a Janesville man, and only goods already on the ground be auctioned. The amendment was lost, only Aldermen Brown and Buchholz voting in the affirmative. The original motion was then passed, Ald. Brown voting "No."

Waterworks Extension.
The committee on parks was authorized to have the flower beds in the parks filled with flowers. An order was passed requesting the Janesville Water Co. to extend its main on Racine street from the present terminal at Garfield ave. easterly a distance of 800 feet and directing that the additional fee hydrants be located by the Chief Engineer. The common council convened at 8:20 and adjourned at 11:30. All members were present excepting Ald. Dulla.

SULTAN PLOWED SATISFACTORILY

NEW TURKISH RULER TURNS A FURROW TO SHOW STRENGTH.

ANCIENT TEST OF COUNTRY

Old Custom Is Broken When Two Christians Are Permitted to Enter Mosque and See Mehmed V.'s Sword Girded On.

Constantinople, May 11.—To show that he is physically able to bear the burdens of the empire, Mehmed V., on whom the sword was girded, had to follow the ancient custom of plowing a furrow. He did the work satisfactorily and now is the monarch of Turkey. It had been a day both of fulfillment of ancient customs and of the breaking of them. Contrary to expectation, two Christians for the first time were admitted to the small mosque attached to Ayoub mosque and allowed to see the ceremony of girding the sword of Osman upon the sultan. Among 30 persons present were Hucham Pasha, an American, and Woods Pasha, an Englishman, both of whom are in the Turkish service. They were impressed with the beauty and solemnity of the ceremony, which, with the chants of the priests, lasted only 20 minutes.

Soldiers Nab a Priest.
As the sultan crossed the courtyard of the mosque to enter his carriage a white-turbaned hadja, or teaching priest, caused a moment's excitement by running forward with a petition which he tried to hand to the sultan, at the same time talking somewhat wildly about the Koranic law. Two soldiers caught him and hurried him out of the yard.

The day, notwithstanding rumors of reactionary plots, passed peacefully and without sign of disturbance. Lights were blazing in the minarets and mosques of Constantinople last night; the ships in the harbor were outlined in electric bulbs, and the city generally celebrated enthusiastically the girding of the new sultan.

Americans Are Present.

All the members of the American embassy, including Ambassador Lelshman, were present at the diplomatic tent. Among other Americans to witness the procession were Rear Admiral Colby M. Chester, U. S. N., retired, and Mrs. Chester; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Chester of New York; Mrs. Jesse M. Roper of Washington, Capt. Leabetter of the Turkish navy, Consul General Edward H. Ozmun, R. Alexander Powell of New York, and Mrs. Hugh L. Poynter, daughter of Charles M. Dickinson, former American consul general here, and now consul general at large.

After having passed the ambassadorial stand, the sultan stopped at the mosque of Mohammed the Conqueror, near the entrance to the Adrianople gate. He prayed for a quarter of an hour and then resumed his six-mile journey through Stambul to the sublime port, whence he drove to the Topkapou palace and gave a reception to a number of distinguished persons.

Along the route of march boys and girls from all the schools in the city sang hymns. The girls wore liberty sashes of white and red, while the boys carried branches of laurel.

ARMY BALLOON EXPLODES; TWO AERONAUTS INJURED

Accident Occurs as Craft Nears Land and Officers Have Narrow Escapes.

Omaha, Neb., May 11.—Following their thrilling experiences when the army balloon, No. 12, in which they were about to land at Jackson, 30 miles from Sioux City, exploded, Capt. Chandler and Lieut. Ware returned to Omaha today. The balloon was entirely destroyed and the aeronauts had a narrow escape from death.

Lieut. Ware declared that aside from the destruction of the gas bag the flight was an entire success. Capt. Chandler believes that while at a high altitude the gas bag became charged with static electricity and that on reaching the ground contact with the earth caused an arc to form, thus producing an electric spark which set fire to the big bag.

The ascension was supervised by Capt. Chandler, assisted by a detachment of trained signal corps men. The balloon started north as soon as it was well into the air and soon crossed the Missouri river. It followed the general course of the river for nearly 100 miles, the flight following an east-northwesterly direction.

The highest altitude reached was 4,400 feet shortly after the balloon left the earth. The distance traveled was about 120 miles.

TAFT'S PLAN IS BEING FOUGHT

DEMOCRATS OPPOSE LEGISLATION FOR RELIEF OF PORTO RICO.

HIS MESSAGE IS HELD UP

President Tells Congress the Island Faces Grave Situation in Connection with Its Finances and Urges Amendment of Foraker Law.

Washington, May 11.—President Taft's message recommending legislation for the relief of Porto Rico's financial troubles is held up in the house on account of the opposition of Democrats and a few Republicans.

A motion by Mr. Garrett of Tennessee directing the speaker to forthwith appoint the committee on insular affairs, asked by the president, which, under ordinary procedure, would have charge of the subject, disclosed the fact that a quorum was not present. Consequently the message will lie on the speaker's table until the house meets on Thursday.

In opposing the appointment of the insular affairs committee the Republican leaders indicated their intention of adhering to the policy of permitting no legislation at the present session, but that which they deem urgent or which the president recommends. The introduction and consideration of a Porto Rican bill will not necessarily affect the program of the leaders as it does not open up any new channels to members who desire to have other legislation considered at this time.

Porto Rico in Peril.

Mr. Taft recommended legislation at the present extra session, amending the Foraker act under which Porto Rico is governed. The president directs the attention of congress to affairs on the island, laying particular stress on what he terms "a situation of unusual gravity," developed through the failure of the legislative assembly of Porto Rico to pass the usual appropriation bills, leaving the island without support until June 30 next.

Porto Ricans have forgotten the generosity of the United States, the president says, in the desire of certain of the island's political leaders for power, and he adds that the present situation indicates that the United States has gone too far in the extension of political power to the Porto Ricans. He concludes that the absolute power of appropriation should be taken away from "those who have shown themselves too irresponsible to enjoy it."

But no action, the president says, should be begun until the Foraker act is amended so that when the legislative assembly shall adjourn without making the appropriation necessary to carry on the government, sums equal to the appropriations made in the previous year for the respective purposes shall be available for the current revenues, and shall be drawn by the warrant of the auditor on the treasurer and countersigned by the governor. Such a provision applies to the legislatures of the Philippines and Hawaii, and "it has prevented in those two countries any misuse of the power of appropriation."

The president reviews the establishment of the present government for Porto Rico by the Foraker act. He says the statute directing how the expenses of the government are to be provided leaves some doubt whether this function is not committed solely to the executive council.

A bill doubling the tax imposed upon brewers and wholesale and retail liquor dealers was introduced by Mr. Kendall of Iowa. It also provides that no tax shall be imposed or collected in those localities where the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors is prohibited by state law.

Victory for Aldrich.
The ability of the Republican majority of the senate to uphold the recommendations of the committee on finance on the lead schedule, which contains the Dingley rates in the tariff bill in the place of the lower duties fixed by the house of representatives, was fully demonstrated when, by a vote of 35 to 44, the senate declined to reduce by one-quarter of a cent a pound the duty on pig lead as recommended by the committee on finance. In this vote 11 Republicans voted with the Democrats and two Democrats with the Republicans. By a viva voce vote the senate adopted the rate of 2½ cents a pound.

Chairman Aldrich said that he regarded the vote as an endorsement of the action of the committee and expressed confidence that all the schedules of the committee would be upheld.

Kellogg Denies the Story.
St. Paul, Minn., May 11.—Frank R. Kellogg, special assistant attorney general in charge of cases against the Standard Oil Company and the Harriman lines, denied that he had informed the president and attorney general that his relations with the government would end when the present cases are closed.

"I never made any such statement to the president or attorney general," said Mr. Kellogg, "and further than that I have nothing to say."

Czar Keeps Old Cabinet.
St. Petersburg, May 11.—A solution of the cabinet crisis, whereby Premier Stolypin and his colleagues in the cabinet will retain their posts, was arranged at a conference between the premier and emperor, which continued until one o'clock this morning.

Jim Jeffries' Real Manager.

Mrs. James J. Jeffries, wife of the champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, with the little daughter of Owen Phillips, the author, Jeffries' reluctance to return to the ring has been attributed to the influence of his wife. In fact, Jeffries' absolute retirement from pugilism some four years ago, when at the zenith of his prowess and fame, has time and again been attributed to Mrs. Jeffries, who is an ardent lover of her home. Whether Jeffries is to meet Jack Johnson or not probably depends more on his beautiful wife than on all the matchmakers and promoters in the world. In fact, it is not stretching the truth to say that the sporting world is awaiting today far more for a verdict from Mrs. Jeffries than from her stalwart husband.

HANS WAGNER IN ACTION.

St. Louis.—Still the mighty Hans continues that wonderful ability to bat the ball which has placed him at the head of the National league batting averages six times out of the nine since 1900. His best average was made in the 1900 season, when he batted .380 and his worst in the season of 1907, when he batted .239.

The race between Wagner and Ty Cobb for world supremacy will be watched with great interest by fans this year. Cobb won the American league honors in 1907, an average of .350, and last year bated second with only .318, the St. Louis emergency man, ahead of him.

Some time ago the assistant auditor of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Coal & Transportation Co., with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo., was in this city. He visited Mr. W. We were old friends sixteen years ago in St. Louis, when he was a student in Stratton's Business College and I was in Dental College.

Amidst other recollections brought up, he said: "You see these three crowns you put on for me sixteen years ago. There they are; AS GOOD AS EVER. Never have loosened or broken."

20 years of experience has fitted me to do even better work than ever before and with my "NO-PAIN" method dentistry is easy for you. As to my prices, you will find them MODERATE compared with what you have possibly been paying.

EASTERN CHURCH WANTS DENISON

UNITED CHURCH OF NEW HAVEN, CONN., CALLS JANEVILLE PASTOR.

CONSIDERING THE OFFER

Also Had Offer from Grand Rapids, Michigan, Church, Which He Refused—May Accept First Offer.
Reverend R. C. Denison is considering a call he has received from the United Church of New Haven, Conn. He will assume his duties there early in the fall. The church is one of the most influential in the east and aside from the regular pastor has a Pastor Emeritus, Reverend Dr. T. T. Munger, and two assistants, a man and a woman. The pulpit until recently was filled by the Reverend Arden J. Haynes, who died a short time ago. Mr. Denison will make his final decision in the matter in a day or two. Mr. Denison also had an offer from the Congregational church at Grand Rapids, Michigan, which he refused. It will also be remembered that last fall he was the recipient of calls from both Minneapolis and Chicago churches of prominence, both of which he declined at that time. The prospects appear to be that he will go to New Haven.

MAJESTIC THEATRE DAMAGED BY FIRE

Two Hundred Dollars Worth of Damage Done by Fire Catching Fire This Afternoon.

One thousand feet of moving picture film was completely destroyed, and damage which will amount to about $100 done to the building occupied by the Majestic Nickel Theatre at 106 W. Milwaukee St., when at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon a fire which was caused by the light of which Post Choles, one of the owners of the theatre was getting the machine ready. There was no fire present in the theatre when the fire occurred. The entire damage to both the film and building will amount to about $200.

The fire was due to the fact that the fire which was during the winter is placed in the ticket seller's booth, was changed to the cellar and consequently the operator, while getting his film ready, was forced to use a candle. In some way the inflammable roll came in contact with the flame of the candle and in order to save his machine from damage, Choles carried the blazing roll down the steps from the fireproof room where the machine is situated with the intention of carrying it into the street where it could do no damage. When he reached the door, he found it locked and was forced to throw the roll of blazing film into a corner by the door where it was completely consumed when the fire department arrived upon the scene. The floor, ceiling and door at the left hand entrance were badly burned and scorched, but outside the loss of the film and this damage, nothing else was harmed. There was considerable excitement on the part of the spectators when they saw the smoke issuing from the building, many fearing that a repetition of the Youngstown disaster was taking place.

The first game will be played a week from next Saturday. The umpire at each game will be someone picked by the two captains from among the spectators.

Commercial League Was Organized at Y. M. C. A. Last Night—Fifteen Games Planned For.

Last evening at the Y. M. C. A. representatives from the six teams are to compose the Janesville Commercial Baseball League met at the Y. M. C. A. to perfect the organization. Physical Director Hirsch was chosen as President of the organization with the captains and managers to act as the board of control. Besides these a schedule committee composed of E. E. Birch, Fred Palmer of the Barker-Pen company team and George Kneek of the Gazette team, is to confer this evening and decide on the schedule of games to be played.

According to the plans made last evening an effort will be made to secure the use of the Fair Grounds and Dunn's pasture in the First Ward, in order that four other teams besides the two contesting at Athletic Park may meet for games. The series will consist of fifteen games, so that each team plays three games with each of the other teams.

Saturday night another meeting will be held and on this occasion the rules and regulations for playing will probably be adopted. Some of the things decided on last night were that each team would be entitled to have in their lineup, two men not legitimately employed by their firm, one of whom might be in the factory. These two foreign players must, however, receive no compensation for their services with the team. Another thing discussed was that a man playing on one of the teams could not play on one of the others also. Uniforms will probably be purchased, and if it is possible a cup will be put up, the one winning the championship of the league for three consecutive years receiving it.

The first games will be played a week from next Saturday. The umpire at each game will be someone

OBITUARY.

John Wesley Van Hise
The funeral of the late J. W. Van Hise was held at the home, 223 Tachue street, at 2 o'clock, May 10, Rev. J. H. Thpset officiating. The services were largely attended and the funeral offerings were many and beautiful.

John Wesley Van Hise was born June 29, 1858, in the town of Hiram, where his boyhood days were spent. He was a son of Dean and Lydia Van Hise.

His whole life with the exception of nine years spent in South Dakota and Kansas has been spent in Rock county.

He was married to Mary A. Fredlund March 16, 1881. To this union seven children were born, five of whom survive—Mrs. Maud I. Boyer of Rockford, Misses Laura and Edna E. Van Hise of the parental home, Mrs. Lillian M. Baber of La Prairie and Roy W. Van Hise, also of the parental home. Two children, Ray D. and Grace L., died in infancy.

Beside the wife and children two sisters survive. Mrs. H. A. Paul of Brookridge, Minn., and Mrs. J. F. Kogler of New Lisbon, Wis.

Mr. Van Hise died Friday afternoon, May 7, at 4:45 after an illness of several months. He was naturally of a sunny disposition and will be greatly missed, not only by the immediate family, but the host of friends and relatives all over the county.

He was a member of Willowdale Camp No. 2902, M. W. A., of Hiram, Wis., also of Maple Camp 210, R. N. A., of the same place.

The pallbearers were: J. G. Brown, Charles Hupler, Wm. E. Gieringer, Edward Kane, Charles Toubert and Gus Stenke of Willowdale camp.

Mrs. Godfrey Richter.
At 12:45 this afternoon the remains of the late Mrs. Godfrey Richter arrived from Milwaukee over the North-Western road and were conveyed directly to Oak Hill cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. W. P. Christy and were very largely attended. Beautiful flowers and many of them adorned the coffin of the deceased. The pallbearers were: C. F. Brockhaus, Albert Granku, Gustave Christman, John Lempe, August Broege, and W. Pank.

Thomas Dalton.
The funeral of Thomas Dalton will be held tomorrow morning at nine o'clock from St. Patrick's church.

Daily Health Hint.
Candies and sweet articles are highly concentrated nourishment that ought, when eaten, to be mixed with coarser food in order to secure proper digestion. This kind of food is more likely to turn acid on a weak stomach than any other, while none so surely tends to produce constipation.

Feared Assassination.
When asked whether Napoleon shaved himself Tallyrand replied: "Yes. One born to be a king has some one to shave him; but they who acquire kingdoms shave themselves." Dionysius, the tyrant of Syracuse, not daring to commit himself to a barber's hands, is said to have shaved his own beard with glowing walnut shells.

Life Should Not Be All Work.
Life is a spectacle and has a lot of fun in the changes of scenes if you watch out. Do not take your work too seriously. Do it the best you know how, then shut the desk and go off and make merry.

REED SMOOT A POWER IN THE SENATE IN SPITE OF GREAT HANDICAP.

Washington, D. C.—Senator Smoot today received assurances from officials of the department of justice that there would be an investigation of the charges of the discrimination by the Harriman line, which were recently made by the merchants of Salt Lake and other cities in Utah. This only again demonstrates the influence of the highest confidence of the United States.

It is a long stride from fighting against big odds to retain a seat in the United States senate to a place in its highest councils. But such is the history of the Utah senator in one brief term. "The flood of protest against his taking his seat which came from the eastern states is well known and would have frightened away a less daring fighter. Because Senator Smoot belonged to the hierarchy of the Mormon church thousands petitioned against his retaining the honor to which he had been without question legally elected by the Utah legislature.

It was three sessions before the storm of criticism of the new Utah senator had subsided and the senate committee on privileges and elections reported in favor of permitting him to retain his seat. Then, as if he had been storing up energy during the two previous years, Mr. Smoot launched into his work as a senator like a dynamo.

Those who worked with him and tried to maintain his pace soon dropped by the wayside, and left this tall, quiet man of few words and much energy plodding steadily onward. During all the time that his right to sit in the senate had been questioned Senator Smoot had not lifted his voice except to vote. Now the senate found that it had a good debater. Mr. Smoot profited by his silence, and the opening of his fourth session found him well located on the Republican side active.

On March 4, 1909, Senator Smoot began his second term. Opposition to him because of his close connection with the Mormon church had disappeared. Those who had taken a careful look into his life found that his beliefs did not intrude themselves upon the daily lives of others, and came to know him as an ordinary American citizen, with plenty of western snap and energy. Those who had come in contact with him in debate knew that it was not wise to precipitate unnecessarily an encounter with him on the senate floor.

Many of those who signed petitions to Congress asking that Reed Smoot be ousted from the senate took it for granted that he had more than one wife. No one understands this prejudice better than Senator Smoot himself. A party of newspaper men were making a trip through the west. They stopped at Salt Lake City and ran down to the Great Salt Lake. On their return they were invited to visit Senator Smoot's home at Provo, Utah.

"Gentlemen," said Senator Smoot, standing upon the broad veranda of his home, "this is my wife," and in an undertone, but so plainly that all could hear, "and the only one I ever expect to have or want."

Today Senator Smoot is hearing, as a member of the committee on finance, a heavy burden, being one of the nine Republican senators who framed the tariff bill just reported to the senate. Membership of this committee is the most sought appointment in the United States senate. It is important from a financial standpoint and gives a senator power which is not refused. The honor went to Senator Smoot unsought, but was earned by hard, persistent, careful work upon less important committees.

This work was watched and marked by senate leaders. When the new committees were chosen at the beginning of the extraordinary session, Mr. Smoot rose to the top of the heap. On this committee he is associated with Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island, its chairman, and Senator Hale of Maine. These two men are the leaders of the senate. They were the ones who chose Reed Smoot to help them in the tariff work, which is watched by the whole business world.

Other important work awaits the committee on finance. Before its term has expired with the present Congress there will probably have been reported to the senate a proposal to change the whole monetary system of the United States. To the committee on finance will come the duty of passing upon this measure.

In addition to a place on the committee on finance, Senator Smoot was made chairman of the committee on printing.

much during his brief term in the United States senate.

Russell Sage's Superstition.

The late Russell Sage was known to refuse to transact business with any man who was preceded into his office by a buzzing fly. One day a broker who had done business with Mr. Sage for a number of years was dumbfounded to be told in the quietest manner possible that they could transact no business that day, and not until a week later did he learn the reason for this unusual conduct. After that the broker took good care to see that no flies were with him when he went into Mr. Sage's presence.

Delay Easily Explained.

When once a famous member returned to the British House of Commons after a by-election for Knowsborough, his unusually delayed appearance was commented upon in the presence of Sir Wilfrid Lawson. The newly elected member, though a wealthy man, was known to be extremely careful about stray expenses. "Isn't it odd," some one said, "Tom Collins doesn't turn up?" "Not at all, not at all," said Sir Wilfrid; "he's waiting for an excursion train."

Parted in the Middle.

"Lazy," said Farmer Hay, "I see that since ye have come back from college ye wear yer hair spliced right down the middle. Now, hyur's all I have to say: If ye expect ter feed out o' my trough ye got to let yer mane fall on one side."—Puck.

The Closer the Comparison the Bigger Values Ours Will Prove to Be

Comparisons is what this store wants. There is not a retail store in Southern Wisconsin that marks its merchandise on as close a margin as we do and in consequence does not offer such values as we do. If comparisons were made freely you would know this without our suggesting it. Look these items over.

Every Spring and Summer Suit at One-Third Off

Right at a time when this will be appreciated most, we make this cut in prices on every garment in the store. One-third off is the rule from former prices—whether the suit was a "sample" and already had been selling at much less than retail prices asked elsewhere, or whether it was one of those exceptional values we have been specializing on at $15.00, the price is one-third less from now on. Our window shows some remarkable bargains in beautiful suits.

Our Waist Department

In our collection you will find waists elaborately trimmed with German Val lace, navy and embroidery in pretty new yokes and straight line panel effects; others with allover embroidery fronts, lace trimmed, tucked backs, long lace trimmed sleeves and high shaped lace trimmed collars. The jauntest, most captivating styles of fancy tailored waists and so many of them, it's hard to single out any style for mention. Tailored waists at... $1.00 $1.25 and $1.50. Our New "Hood" Strictly Tailored Waists in a different style to choose from, showing the new season's latest novelties in tailored waists. WELL-KNOWN LIMA
MAN PASSED AWAY

Orson Truman Died Last Tuesday After a Long Illness—Was Highly Respected in Community.

Lima, May 10.—Orson Truman died at his home in this village on Tuesday morning, May 4, after a long illness. The deceased was born in the town of Writ, Allegheny Co., N. Y., June 21, 1840. He was a son of John Truman, who while Wisconsin was yet a territory, came with wife and seven children and purchased a tract of land in the town of Lima. The country round about was sparsely settled and the greater portion of the land still owned by the government. When the railroad was completed in 1852 John Truman was appointed its agent. Mr.
Truman was married and educated in Lima and in February, 1862, was united in marriage to Miss Adeline D.
Child, also of Lima. On the death of his father Orson succeeded as station agent until 1864, when he enlisted in Co. G, 38th Wis. Infantry. He served until the close of the war in the First Brigade, First Division, Ninth
Corps of the Army of the Potomac.
After the war he resided in Lima until 1869 when he moved to Rockford, Ill., where for over 20 years he was a contractor and builder. In 1898 he, with his family, returned to Lima,
where, until failing health prevented, he still continued in his business. In the same year he united with the S.
D. A. church at Milton Junction and remained a faithful and earnest member until his death. To Mr. and Mrs.
Truman were born six children, Edna, Olin, Willis, Mina, George and Harry.
Edna, Willis and Harry, who with their mother, are left to mourn the loss of an affectionate husband and loving father. One brother, Wm. Truman, of Lima, and one sister, Mrs. Hattie Cox, of Oklahoma, also survive. The funeral was held at the U. B. church on Thursday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. W. W. Stobbs, of Madison. Relatives who came from out of town to attend the funeral were: Willis C. Truman of Capri, Ill.; Geo. Child of Minneapolis, Minn.; Mr.
and Mrs. John Miller, Monroe, Ill.; P.
H. Child and wife of Illinois; D. C.

NAMED DELEGATE TO BUFFALO GATHERING

D. M. Barlase Named by Governor Davidson to Attend National Conference of Charities
And Correction on June 16.

D. M. Barlase yesterday received his appointment as a delegate to the National Conference of Charities and Correction to be held in Buffalo, N.
Y., on June 16th. The state convention of the Superintendents and Overseers of state and county asylums is also scheduled for the same time and it is possible that Mr. Bar-lase may attend this last gathering in Madison instead of going to Buffalo.
At the present time there are seventy-four insane male patients and fifty-four female inmates. The number is slightly less than when Mr. Barlase first took charge, owing to the fact that eleven insane patients have been taken to their home county asylums recently. The warm spring weather also deplores the ranks of the poor farm inmates. Mrs. Dana, the aged woman who recently inherited a small fortune through the will of her husband, is still at the farm and will probably not be removed. She is suffering from a cancer of the stomach and her death is near at hand. Her husband, who is eighty-two years of age, is also at the county farm. There is a son of the aged couple who disappeared several years ago, and a grandson, aged twelve, who is with his mother in South Bend, Ind. The grandson, it is understood, will inherit the money of his grandmother.

WOMAN'S CLUB WILL REPRODUCE THE FAIR

Evansville Literary Society Will Give Miniature Fair in Imitation of Rock County Fair.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Evansville, May 10.—Great preparation is being made by the ladies of the Woman's Literary club for an entertaining which is to be given to the public under their auspices at an early date. It will consist of a reproduction of a Rock County fair with all the attractions conceivable. In fact, the ladies propose to illustrate to the officers of the fair, and the public generally, what a fair that is a fair is like.

The funeral of Asaph J. Allen was held at the family home five miles west of here, yesterday afternoon at one-thirty o'clock, conducted by Rev.
D. Q. Grubill. Mrs. V. A. Axtell, Mrs.
W. F. Biglow, and Robert D. Hardy,
Jr., and Messrs. Lauren Jones,
George Emery, Fred Rowley, C. Fuller, Eugene Montgomery, and John Swanwick were the pallbearers. The remains were interred in the cemetery near the stone archway. Mr. Allen was born in Aurora, New York, May 18, 1831, and lived in the East until he grew to manhood. In 1855 he came west and located on a farm in the town of Exeter, Green county.
There he and his father together ran a blacksmith and wagon shop but remained there only a few years. Later he moved onto a farm in the town of Brooklyn where he also conducted a wagon shop and did blacksmithing.
On September 20, 1863, Mr. Allen was married to Miss Amanda M. Powell.
This union were born three children: Ethan, who lives on the home farm, Mrs. Lucetta Cramer, who died Jan. 4, 1908, and Mrs. Rose Lamb of Madison. Besides the son and daughter there are left to mourn for their loss his widow, a sister, Mrs. El-son Patterson of Utica, N. Y., and a brother, Justin Allen of Oberlin, Kas.
Mr. Allen has lived near here for over fifty years and was widely known and highly respected, and many friends sympathize deeply with the sorrowing relatives. Among those who came from away to attend the funeral were Mrs. Peterson of Nebraska, Mrs. C.
Lamb and daughter Clara, of Madison; Miss Anna Cramer of Rockford, and Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Williams of Brod-way.

time been conducting a drug store at Long Point, Ill., but of late he has been in poor health and has decided to leave his business in the care of his brother for a time and has come here to rest and recuperate, as this location seems to agree with him better than the climate of Illinois.

The annual joint debate of the Evansville high school occurred here Friday evening between the representatives of the A. H. Shultz Debating Lyceum and students from the Elkhorn high school. The question was,
"Resolved, that the fifteenth amendment to the constitution should be repealed." Will H. Frater, Percy Harrington and Walter Murphy of Elkhorn argued the negative side of the question, and Henry Gardner, Bert Holmes and Paul Chase took the affirmative. Rev. D. Q. Grubill was the presiding officer and the judges were Prof. C. E. Allen, Prof. Chase and Atty. Sanborn, all of Madison.
The Elkhorn students were triumphant, although Prof. Chase, who announced the decision, stated that the debaters were very evenly matched. The program opened with music by the Elkhorn brothers and closed with a vocal duet by Miss Elsie Finn and Marc Webb.

Mrs. Alice Pope of Redfield, S. Dak., is a guest at the home of Mr. and by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube.

When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; also runs out of ten are said to catch cold, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh)

TO PRINT TOWN'S FINGERS IN SEARCH FOR MURDERER

Experts Will Make Impressions of Winnebago Digits to Find Widow's Slayer.

Winnebago, Ill., May 11.—The authorities of the county and city who are trying to solve the mystery surrounding the murder of Mrs. Margaret Grippen, cousin of Gen. Lew Wallace, author of "Ben Hur," have decided to take the finger prints of every man and woman in the town.

The Winnebago murder is attracting the attention of the entire country. As Mrs. Grippen is not known to have had any enemies and as not a penny's worth of property was stolen and no one could have benefited by her death, all that remains upon which detectives may work is the finger print in blood made on a lamp chimney by the murderer just before his escape from the house.

Satisfied that the murder can only be solved by means of the impression on the blood-stained chimney, Mrs. M. E. Holland, one of the best known finger print experts and woman detective in the country, has been called to Winnebago by Sheriff Collier to compare the imprints of every one of the 1,000 inhabitants of the village. This work will be commenced today. Should it prove fruitless every known acquaintance of Mrs. Grippen, whether the resident of her home town or of some other city, will be compelled to submit to the test.

This action was decided upon when it was learned that for the past 25 years Mrs. Grippen apparently had lived in fear of her life and that after 5:30 o'clock every night she exercised great caution in allowing visitors to enter her home, questioning them as to who they were and before unbaring the door, peering from a front window in order to be positive of the identification.

This fact has led the police and detectives to the conclusion that the murder was in all probability committed by a resident of the town who was probably well known to his victim.

Facts for Weak Women

Nine-tenths of all the sickness of women is due to some derangement or disease of the organs distinctly feminine. Such sickness can be cured—is cured every day by

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

It Makes Weak Women Strong, Sick Women Well.

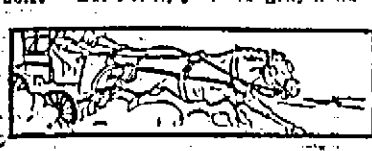

It acts directly on the organs affected and is at the same time a general restorative tonic for the whole system. It cures female complaint right in the privacy of home. It makes unnecessary the disagreeable questioning, examinations and local treatment so universally insisted upon by doctors, and so obnoxious to every modest woman.

We shall not particularize here as to the symptoms of those peculiar affections incident to women, but those wanting full information as to their symptoms and means of positive cure are referred to the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser—1008 pages, newly revised and up-to-date Edition, sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only; or, in one binding for 31 stamps.

Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

All the time I kept thinking to myself: "Sol Pratt, you old gray-headed fool, this is your final bust of craziness. You can't make it; you know before you started you couldn't. You'll be in among the shoals pretty soon and then you and the Dora Bassett'll go to smithereens and cart that poor innocent city man with you. He don't know that, but you do. And all on account of a red-headed little toughy from the back alleys of New York, and a girl that ain't none of your relations. You deserve what's coming to you."

A Two-Master Went Booming By Just Under Our Stern.

And yet, even while I was thinking it, I was glad I was making the try. Glad for Reddy's sake; particular glad on account of what it might mean to Martin and Agnes; and glad, too, just out of general easiness. You see, 'twas like a fight; and there's a heap of satisfaction once in a while in a real old-fashioned, knock-down and drag-out, rough-and-tumble fight—that is, when you're fighting for anything worth the row.

The storm kept on; seemed as if 'twould never let up. And we kept on, too, three reefs in by this time, and then, jib down. And with every tack I caltied we was making better headway towards the bottom than any-where else. I couldn't see nothing to get my bearings from, and hadn't no idea where we was, except the general one that, up to now, and by God's mercy, we was afloat.

Then, at last, the gale began to go down. A landman wouldn't have noticed the change, but I did. It stopped raining, and the wind was easing up. By and by the haze broke and I caught a glimpse of Middle Ground light, almost abreast of us. I unbuckled my flask and looked at my watch. Half-past two, and only three-quarters of the way to Wapatomoc. We'd been eight hours and a half coming a distance that I've made over and over again, in that very sleep, in less than three. Hartley caught my sleeve.

"Will we get there?" he shouted. His face was all shivering with the wet and his hair was too heavy with water even to blow in the wind.

"Don't know," I hollered back. "We'll try."

He nodded. The clearing of that haze had helped me considerably; I could sight my markers, the lights, now, and we made faster time.

At last, after what seemed a fortnight more, came the first streak of gray daylight. The clouds were breaking up and it would be a nice day later on, I judged. But there was a living gale still blowing and the waves was running savage over the shoals ahead. The channel was narrowing up and I had to watch out every second. I sent Hartley amidships to tend center-board.

We beat in through Long Point reach. The life-saving station is on the Point, just about the lighthouse. I see the feller in the station tower open the window and lean out to watch us. I caltied he wondered what asylum had turned that pair of lunatics loose.

Past the Point and now we come about for the run afore the wind up the narrow. Wapatomoc village was in plain sight.

"With any sort of luck," says I. "We'll be alongside the dock by quarter-past five. The down train leaves at 25 minutes to eight. You can thank your stars, Mr. Hartley."

"'Twas a pretty cock-sure thing to say, and I ought to have known better than to crow afore we was out of the woods. But we'd come through so far onough sight better than a reasonable man could expect."

The narrow is a wicked place. The channel is fairly straight, but scant width, and on each side of it is a stretch of bare and ripa that are bad enough in decent weather. Now they was as good an imitation of as salt-water Tophot as I want to see. Strip after strip of breakers, with lines of billing, twisting slicks and whirlpools between. And the tide tearing through.

I sent Hartley forward to look out for shoals. He had one know on the edge of the cabin roof and was climbing up, when I happened to glance astern. There was an old "his" wave coming—a regular deep-water grayback.

"Look out!" I yelled. "Stand by!" That wave hit us like a house tumbling down. I'd braced myself and was, in a way, ready for it, but Hartley wasn't. He was knocked forward on his face. Then, as the bow jumped up, he was chucked straight backwards, landing on his shoulders and left arm against the centerboard wall. He turned a full somersault and his feet knocked into from under me. Down I went and the tiller was yanked out of my hands.

Waves like that hunt in droves, generally spanking. The next one was right on schedule time. Up we went, and sideways like a railroad train. Then down, "Bump!" on the bottom. Up again, and down. "Thump! Crunch!"

That time we struck with all our heft. The Dora Bassett shook all over. She riz, still shaking, and the next wave threw her clean over the bar. We was in deep water for a minute, but just a little ways off was another line of breakers. And astern was the rudder, broke clean off, and floating away.

"'Twas no time for fooling. Hartley got to his knees, white, and holding his left arm with his right hand. I jumped and cast off the sheet. She floated then on a more even keel. Then I yanked loose the oar from its cleats alongside the rail and got it over the stern to steer with.

This got her under control, and down the lane, between two lines of breakers, we went, me with the sheet in one hand, the oar braced under 'tother arm, and the three-reefed mainmast well out. The cockpit was half full of water.

"The lane of deep water narrowed up ahead of us and there was a kind of gate, as you might say, at the end. Hartley looked at me and I at him.

"Can you?" he asked. He was white as paper, but not from being scared I was sure. His left arm hung down straight and he kept rubbing it.

"Lord knows," I yelled. "Are you hurt?"

He didn't answer; just shook his head. On went the Dora Bassett. Bless the old girl's heart! She was doing her best to pull us through.

The gate was just in front of our nose. I set my teeth and headed her for the middle of it. A jiffy more, and the crazy breakers jumped at us, from both sides. Their froth flew over us in chunks. Then we was through, and I fetched my first decent breath.

We was in a kind of pond now, where we had elbow room.

Martin looked astern. "Here comes a boat," says he.

"'Twas the lifeboat from the station. They'd seen our trouble and was coming full tilt. I hadn't ever been took off my own boat by no life-savers, and I wasn't going to bokin'.

"Leave 'em!" hails the crew cap'n from the boat. "We're coming to take you off."

"I didn't answer. "Leave 'em!" he yells again. "Leave 'em!"

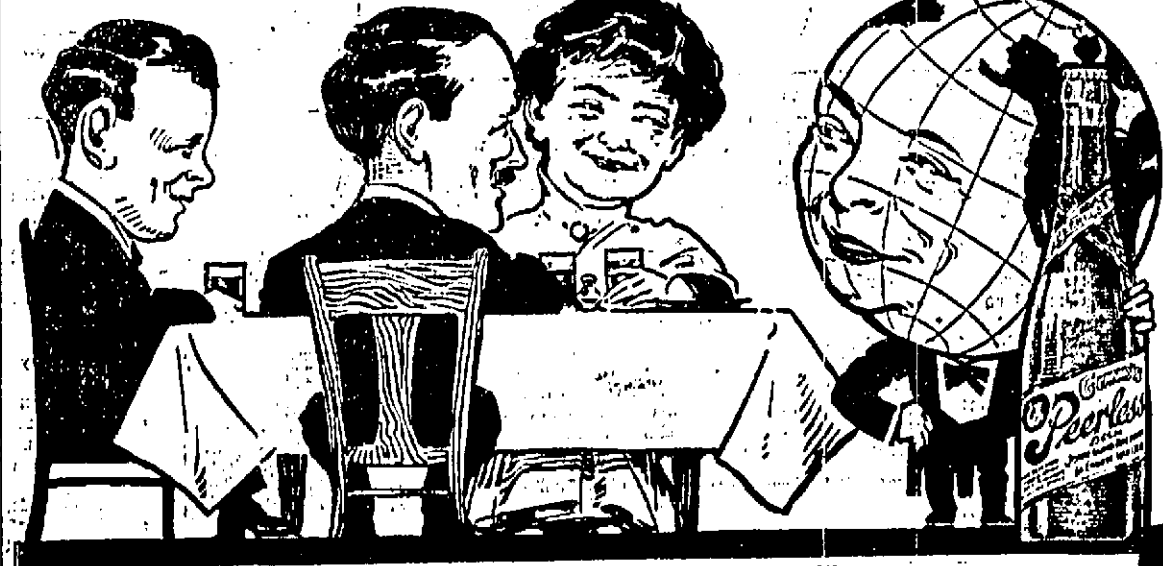

I turned my head a little ways. "Go home and get your breakfast," I sings out. "We're busy."

They kept on for a 'tays, and then they give it up. I ran two or three more of them lanes and then, when I had the chance, I dropped my mainmast and hit the jib. And with that jib and the oar I picked my way for another spell, in and out and betwixt and between. At last we slid past the Wapatomoc breakwater and up to the wharf. A nice piece of work for any body's boat, if I do say it.

Hartley seemed to think so, too, for says he: "Skipper, that was beautiful. You're a wonder."

"Twenty minutes of six," says I. "We're on time."

There was an early-bird lobsterman on the wharf, come down to see how many of his pots had gone adrift in the night. He stood and stared at us. "God sakes!" says he. "Where'd you come from?"

FRESH AIR FOR THE SICK.

Nothing is more common than fresh air. It is all pervading and provided by nature. It is free to all who will take it. We all need it and all have to have it. The sick need it more than the well, and yet there are those who think the windows in the sickroom must be kept closed. As a matter of fact, the one best thing we can do for the sick is to see to it that they have an abundance of fresh air all the time.

Some time ago I was suffering from an attack of kidney trouble and going to the People's Drug Co., I procured a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills. A few boxes cured me and I have been in good health since. INSURANCE FOR NATIONAL BANKS Institutions Declared to Have Right to Protect Assets.

Washington, May 11.—Attorney General Wickersham has decided that a national bank has a legal right to insure its assets against loss. The opinion was rendered in response to a request from the secretary of the treasury who sent to the attorney general a form of policy to be issued "by an insurance company proposed to be organized."

The attorney general approved the plan of insurance, but suggested some changes in the form of policy. The Democratic platform a year ago recommended a tax on national banks and on such state banks as wished to come in, to raise a guaranty fund to insure the depositors of the banks.

Mr. Taft opposed this plan in his campaign speeches and when Oklahoma, as a state, put the plan into operation, the attorney general of the United States decided that it could not be applied to national banks.
